

Streets and byways

Wednesday, May 4, 2005

Duxbury Clipper

The Daffodil Project

Along the Bluefish River on Saint George Street, you will see hundreds of new yellow daffodils poking their heads up. Members of the Daffodil Project are thankful for the many donations from the family and friends of Al Paradis, who made this planting possible. More will be added to the banks of the Bluefish next fall. It is not too late to make a donation.

When enough money accrues for a planting, bulbs are ordered directly from Holland and planted in the fall by Chuck Nudd. If you are interested in contributing bulbs individually or as a group for a memorial, to celebrate a graduation, marriage, or birthday, or simply because you love to see those springtime daffies, your contribution is welcome. For information call Courtney Jordan at 781-934-2270, or sent a check to: The Daffodil Project, Rockland Trust Company P.O. Box 1627, Duxbury, MA 02331.